FOREWORD

The panorama of a wonderful year unfolded leaving in its wake a trail filled with exhilarating experiences stemming from events and activities forever imprinted in the history of Lebanon High School.

Each event followed in succession and laid the pattern for one of the happiest years of our life.

The first day was ushered in amid joyous greetings to fellow students and teachers. Registration, books, then classes; and the work of another school year was well on its way.

College Day led us to realize that the challenge for a higher education was awaiting the completion of high school. The homecoming football game initiated sports for the year. Then came clubs with their initiations, meetings, and parties.

Basketball was the culminating activity for the year. The team aspired, reached for, and achieved its goal of State Championship which will be cherished in the years ahead.

Then came the awarding of trophies at the Athletic Banquet. Following this event was the Junior-Senior Prom, a happy occasion always to be remembered. Finally, graduation concluded the events for a memorable part of our life.

In retrospect we view each joyous experience amid its setting and time.

Academics

Mr. White, our principal, ably guides all activities in the school.

the feeling of

Guidance aims to assist each pupil to understand himself, to become self-directive, and to develop to the maximum his potentialities. Assistance is available to both boys and girls by means of individual and group guidance.

This year, one day a week, group guidance activities have provided information about vocations, educational opportunities, and personal and social development.

Every member of the high school faculty has opportunities and responsibilities for guidance. Basically, administrators, teachers, and guidance personnel have the same goals and purposes. However, certain persons are assigned specific responsibilities for coordinating and administering the guidance services of the school. The guidance coordinator is Miss Blanche Campbell, who also serves as counselor for the tenth and eleventh grades. The other counselors are: eighth grade, Mr. David Musick; ninth grade, Mrs. Lucy Gilmer; twelfth grade, Mrs. Louella Vicars.

Mrs. Sue Poston, our secretary.

Sue is selling meal tickets to the students.

co-operation, and helpfulness

Mr. David Musick, our assistant principal.

Mr. David Musick, Miss Blanche Campbell, Mrs. James Gilmer, and Mrs. Eugene Vicars are the guidance teachers.

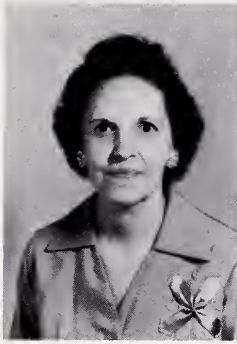

Mrs. Stanley Wagoner, our book-keeper.

English

The fifty-five minute English class periods are spent teaching grammar the first semester and literature the last semester. Both grammar and literature offer advantages for choral reading and correlating literature and grammar in writing technique through essay work, book reports, student autobiographies and friendly and business letter-writing; also vocabulary drill, spelling and play dramatizing are important activities. Work display in the form of a frieze makes attractive room decorations.

Students are urged to do work neatly and to improve penmanship. Movies and records assist in teaching the student correct study habits.

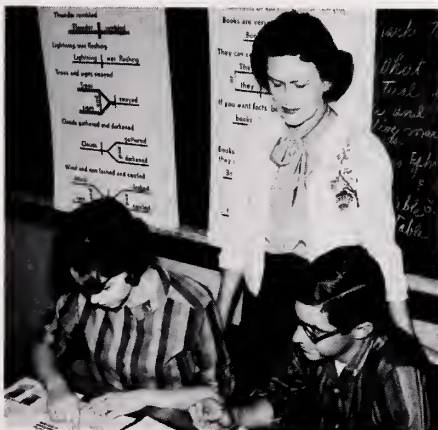

Students are working hard to increase their vocabularies.

Dana Altizer and Laura Rumley are assisted in diagramming sentences by Mrs. Pruner.

Mrs. Vicar's eager students are awaiting their test papers even though they don't always make "A's".

Bernie Myers and Ann Parks are busy at work on the dummy copy of the TRAIL BLAZER.

Miss Blanche Campbell, B.S., Emory and Henry College

Mr. Donald C. Moore, B.S., Radford College

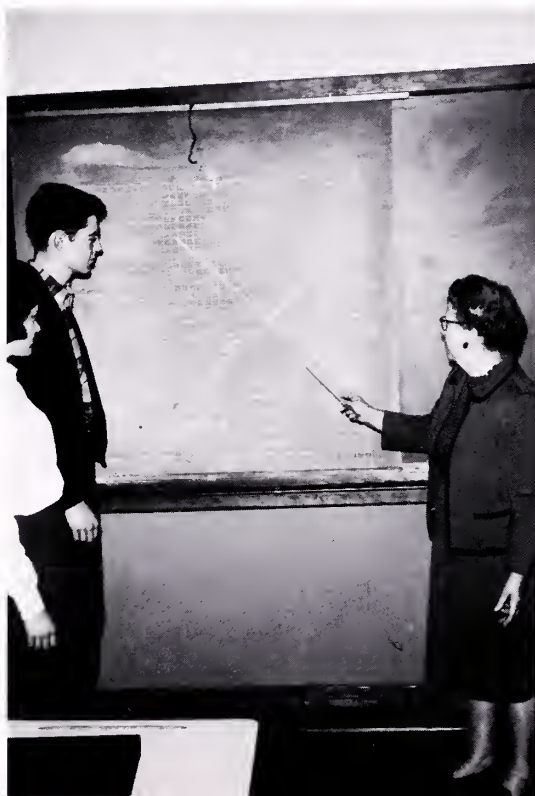

Mrs. Jimmy White, B.S., East Tennessee State University

Mr. Moore gives individual instruction to his algebra class.

The ground-work for higher mathematics is taught by Mrs. White in her eighth-grade math class.

Graph work is very important in Mrs. Givens' algebra class.

Mathematics

The instructors in mathematics are Miss Campbell, Mrs. Givens, Mr. Moore, and Mrs. White.

Each student is encouraged to work to the level of his capacity and to advance as far as he can in mathematics since he will find use for all he can learn. Higher mathematics and advanced science courses go hand in hand; usually the same students take both courses. It is heartening to see more students becoming aware of the importance of mathematics in modern science and modern living.

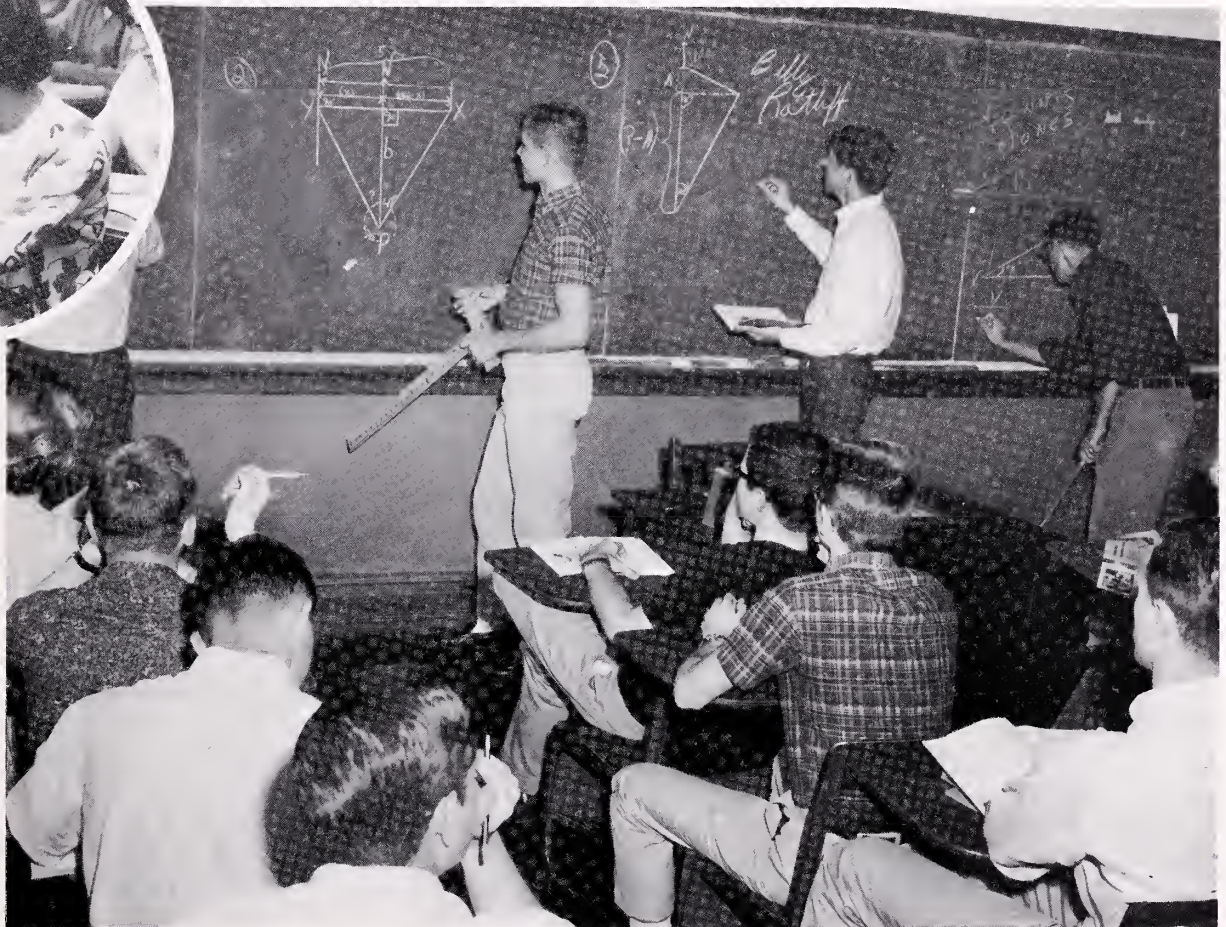

Miss Campbell helps Diana Musick while other students work problems at the board.

Linda White attempts to draw a circle.

Tommy Fuller concentrates on his problem for completeness.

Science Fair Winners

FIRST PRIZE WINNERS ARE: Ronnie Parks, Cheryl Elkins, Robert Jessee, Barbara Cook, Judy Helbert, Paulette Denny.

The 1963-64 Science Fair was the most successful in the history of the school with approximately 110 projects entered.

Mrs. C. C. Bundy, Jr., B.A., Lynchburg College

Mrs. James P. Gilmer, B.A., King College

Mrs. Hugh Lynch, B.A., Emory and Henry College

Mrs. H. B. Adams, B.S., Madison College

Mrs. Adams assists Ricky Wallace in his study of electricity.

Sharon Brown, Carolyn Davis, and Susan Archer eagerly observe Mrs. Lynch, their biology teacher, as she explains the human respiratory system.

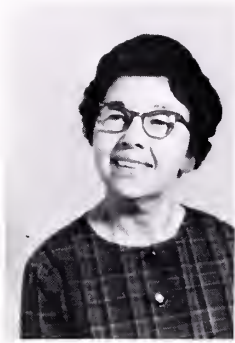

Bob Gilmer is demonstrating magnetic declination.

Mrs. Gilmer's Chemistry Class is employing the method of experimentation in discovering the properties of acids, bases, and salts.

Mrs. James P. Gilmer, B.A., King College

Mrs. Emmett Buckles, B.A., Emory and Henry College

Mr. Paul G. Helvey, B.A., Emory and Henry College

Mr. Tom Bryant, B.S., East Tennessee State College

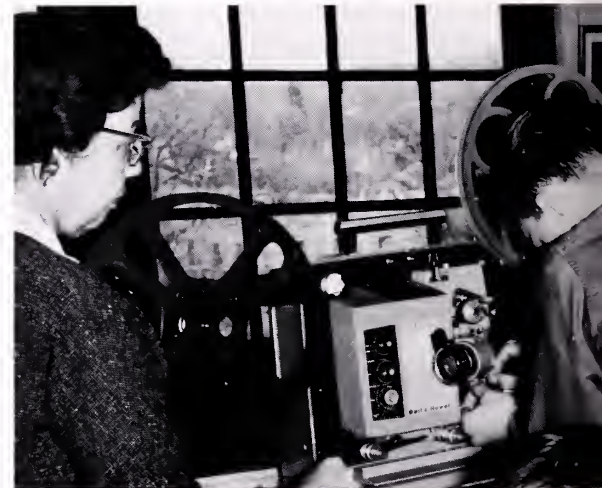

Mrs. Buckles' class in American history is studying the American Revolution.

There are five 8th grade, and four 11th grade classes in American history at L. H. S. during the 1963-64 session. Also there are two classes in 10th grade World history.

Various methods are used to add to information given in the regular history books used in the courses. As the use of filmstrips, globes, motion pictures, maps, charts of world current events, reproduction of art by great artists, and other materials. Each class period included an informal question and answer period in order to explain more fully the subject being discussed.

The ultimate objective is to guide high school students so that they will later react as responsible, well-informed adults in the challenging world of tomorrow.

the excitement of Christmas

The Christmas story is a traditional program that is held each year at Lebanon High School. Sandra Jessee played the part of Mary; Joseph was Conley Damron; and the angels were played by Barbara Jessee and Glenda Hall.

Social Studies

Mrs. Gilmer watches Fred Leuze as he threads a projector for a film in government class.

Latin

Mrs. Givens explains translations to John Watkins, while the remainder of the Latin class listens.

The Latin I class of Lebanon High this year consists of fifteen students from the senior, junior, and freshman classes. At this time only one year of Latin is being offered in this school.

A study of the ways of Latin brings with it a parallel study of the ways of English and reveals many grammatical points about our own language hitherto unnoticed. Latin is a tool which enriches the vocabulary, creates and fosters interest in words and meanings, and puts a premium on precise expression. A study of this language also provides material for enjoyment of leisure and for cultural growth through its many relationships to things, to people, and to literature. Latin thus, by skillful management, can bring to pupils a life-related experience which may well be unique in their school life.

Mrs. G. H. Givens, A.B.,
Lynchburg College

Mrs. C. C. Bundy, Jr.,
B.A., Lynchburg College

Foreign Languages

The L. H. S. French Classes have endeavored to combine the best of a conventionally accepted method of formal language teaching with the relatively new and modern audio-lingual method.

The trend toward audio-lingual or as they are sometimes called oral-aural courses has posed for us at L. H. S. much variation of our materials and extensive preparation by students and teacher.

Each class period included a variety of activities: dialogue review; new dialogue, pattern drills, listening to tapes and records, repeating and practicing pronunciation, reading and writing French and in all of our work, we have emphasized comprehension of the language spoken at normal speed and by native French speakers, reproduced on records and tapes and heard also in French Films.

French I

Mrs. Bundy is using the audio-lingual method of teaching for her French I class.

French

II

Audio-lingual materials are used in teaching French II.

Mrs. Stanley Wagoner, B.S., Radford College

Mrs. Fred Pruner, B.S., Lincoln Memorial University

Mr. David Musick, M.S., Virginia Polytechnic Institute

Mr. J. Taylor Skeen, B.S., Virginia Polytechnic Institute

Miss Mildred Tate, B.S., Madison College

Miss Tate instructs Ann Jackson and Frances Tignor in the bed-making technique.

Mrs. Wagoner's shorthand class prepares for International OGA Contest.

The Business Department in addition to covering the text material in their classes did the following related work:

The students of Typing I typed their English term papers, drew pictures at the typewriter, made Christmas cards, typed a mock newspaper, and had a project on composing business letters.

General business students saw movies on related subjects and bought and sold "pretend" stocks.

Shorthand class selected the secretary of the week, participated in the Nancy Taylor Charm School, entered a national shorthand contest with 12 out of 15 qualifying for honors, took office style dictation, and took the Civil Service Examination.

Typewriting II was supposedly employed by a soap company for six weeks, during which time they typed problems found in an office, interviewed people in offices and reported to the class, and took numerous trips.

Bookkeeping class kept books for a wholesale grocery for six weeks and studied taxes.

The business department strives to instill within the students skills needed for personal use as well as in business.

Commercial Vocation

Mr. Musick demands the undivided attention of his general business class.

Learning to type is serious business in Mrs. Pruner's Typing I class.

Students are trying to understand Mrs. Wagoner's explanation of a work sheet.

Mr. Skeen teaches some pupils how to take soil samples.

Thirty-five boys and thirty-one girls constitute the graduating class of Lebanon High School for the term 1963-64.

A number of seniors attended College Night held in Richlands on September 24. Representatives versed the students on advantages of college life and of special benefits their colleges offered.

On October 11th, the annual homecoming parade and football game took place. The Senior class and Lebanon High School choir prepared a float on which the homecoming queen and maid of honor rode.

In November, Seniors ordered calling cards which were delivered before Christmas. This act reminded seniors of their responsibility of graduation in the spring.

The annual Christmas party held in the cafeteria was attended by both senior homerooms.

Seniors enjoyed dancing and delicious refreshments furnished by Home Economic girls. Mrs. Vicars and Mrs. Gilmer were presented pleasing gifts by the class.

Seniors were guests of the Appalachian Electric Power Company in Carbo on February 12th. The plant conducted tours and served a lunch of fried chicken, cream potatoes, baked beans, rolls and butter. Cupcakes and cokes ended the delicious meal.

The Senior play, "Life of the Party," was scheduled for the first week in May. Students enjoyed trying out for parts and practicing for a six weeks period.

Seniors attended a performance, Shakespeare's MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM at the Barter Theater in Abingdon, Virginia, April 30th.

Do they or don't they want to go to college--that is the question!

Junior

The year 1963-64 has been one of considerable activity for us.

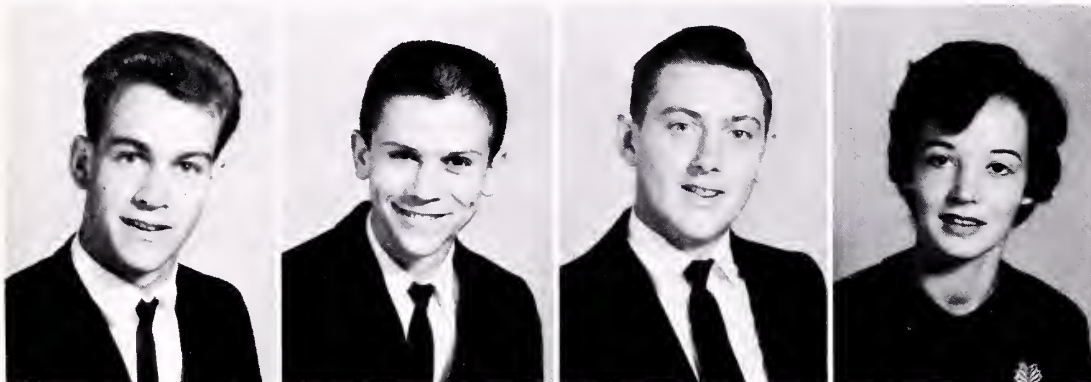

Among our foremost attractions in the money-making schemes for the Junior-Senior prom have been the three act play - A PAIR OF COUNTRY KIDS, the basketball game, junior girls vs. senior girls, and the variety show.

We have worked and played to the fullest this year and are anticipating the forth-coming year to be filled with happy events. Our sponsors, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Wagoner have given their time and effort to make our year successful.

Sophomore

The Sophomore Class eagerly began their third year of high school education with work and play.

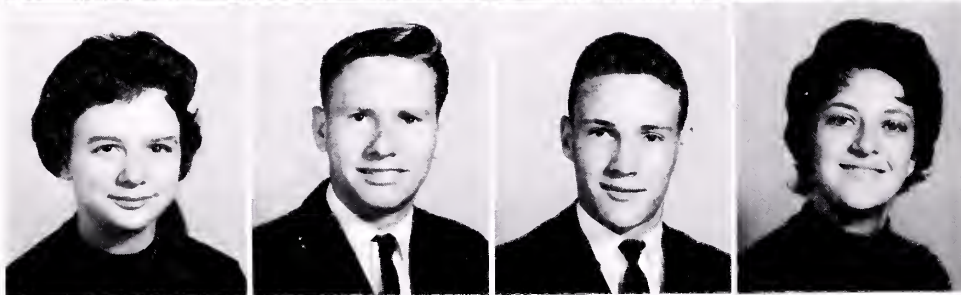

They worked much harder this year than in previous years because of more difficult subjects such as Biology and French II. However, they knew how to have fun, such as their class party. Reigning over the affair were Estella Monk and Butch Noe.

Freshman

The Freshman Class began their school year by electing officers. This was very interesting because only boys won.

On November 25, 1963, the class party was held. The Royalty consisted of Peggy Monk as queen and Eddie Jennings as king.

The Freshman Class also participated in many other phases of school life.

Student Co-operative Association

S.C.A. Officers: Billy Ratliff - President, Miss Campbell - Sponsor, Judy Hawks - Secretary, Phillip Puckett - Vice President.

The SCA is an organization of students elected by students, to serve as their official representative in all matters of concern to the entire school. It provides a medium through which student opinion may be heard and a forum for the consideration of common school problems. It is also a training ground for leaders and followers. It gives students an opportunity to act in a real situation.

The SCA is composed of the presidents of classes, clubs, homerooms, the editor of the annual, editor of the school paper, and the three elected officers.

The SCA sent delegates to District Convention and the president to Summer Workshop at Radford. The president is automatically sent to Boy's or Girl's State. The SCA has been responsible for Wednesday activity programs such as educational films, guest speakers, and student participants. Also included in the activities was a White Christmas program in which baskets of food were distributed among needy people.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society has for its dual purpose the stimulation of high scholarship and the development of sound character in students of Lebanon High School. The Society is composed of students from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes who maintain an average grade of "B". Society members are included in other clubs and as such are responsible for providing leadership and direction in the activities which make school life so varied and interesting.

Science Club

On March 4, the Science Club held its annual Science Fair in which students from all five classes in the high school participated. The following two days the fair was open to be viewed by the public and school.

The Science Club accepted a challenge from the Honor Society and competed against them in an assembly program.

By having a program pertaining to science at each meeting, the Science Club strives to live up to its purpose: the advancement of scientific knowledge.

Girls Varsity Club

The Girls Varsity Club consists of thirteen girls who have earned a school letter as either a football or basketball cheerleader.

The club made possible the serving of a free lunch to a third grade girl. The cost was paid by individual contributions from each member.

The Athletic Banquet is another activity sponsored by the club.

L. to R., FIRST ROW: Anne Burns, Jayne Brooks, Ann Boyd, Sandy Johnson, Margaret Howard, Regina Smith, Diane Smith. SECOND ROW: Sponsor - Miss Whitt, Linda Jones, Bettye Honaker, Sherry Campbell, Joyce Belcher, Jeanette Griffith, Judy Hawks.

The Boys Varsity Club consists of thirty-two boys who have earned a letter in either football, baseball, basketball or track.

The club sponsored a raffle to help raise money to buy a camera. The camera will be used to film football games next year.

The club also helps to sponsor the Athletic Banquet.

The club sponsor is Mr. Bryant.

Future Teachers of America

In October, during National Education Week, all members took part in giving a coke party for the teachers. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

During the basketball season, members took turns keeping a coat check at the home games. This not only helped to raise money for the club, but it also gave more comfort to the fans.

Future Homemakers of America

Contributing to the happiness and success of the family was the height of interest in the L. H. S. Chapter of the F. H. A. Each month the girls gave a program centered around the main topic of home life.

As a money making project, the members of the club sold candy during basketball season. During National F. H. A. Week the girls gave a supper at the home economics cottage and invited their mothers.

L. to R., FIRST ROW: Martha Fields, Norma Gilbert, Brenda Amos. SECOND ROW: Doris Jackson, Sondra Stoots, Wilma Reynolds, Brenda Crist, Phyllis Buckles, Paulette Denny, Brenda Whited. THIRD ROW: Mrs. Tate, sponsor; Janice Chafin, Sandra Jessee, Debra Salyers, Joyce Belcher, Margaret Dean, Anna Jean King, and Mary Marshall.

President, Connie Jones; Vice-Pres., Linda Watkins; Secretary, Sondra Mullins; Treasurer, Clara Jessee; Chaplain, Mardell Perkins; Sergeant-at-Arms, Margaret Howard; Historian, Jane Kiser.

This year the Senior Tri-Hi-Y has been very active. On November 2, the Sr. Tri-Hi-Y helped host the Western District Conference. There were three of our members elected to district offices: Mardell Perkins, assistant doorkeeper for Model General Assembly; Linda Watkins, district vice-president; Connie Jones, district chaplain.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y, with the two other Y-Clubs, presented a Thanksgiving program for the student body. The guest speaker was Rev. P. L. Rowlett.

During the months of January and February, the club members sold nabs in the cafeteria.

The club sent three delegates to Model General Assembly April 2 through April 4.

Senior Tri-Hi-Y

L. t. R., FIRST ROW: Ann Jackson, Claudine Shugart, Clara Jessee, Mardell Perkins, Sandra Parker. SECOND ROW: Carolyn Howard, Jane Kiser, Margaret Howard, Linda Watkins, Anne Burns. THIRD ROW: Mrs. Gilmer, Sponsor; Sharon Odum,

Junior Tri-Hi-Y

The Dorothy Fuller Jr. Tri-Hi-Y Club was composed of forty members from the eighth grade and the freshman and sophomore classes. The club collected magazines and took them to the hospital as their first service project. At the beginning of the basketball season, the club made sportsmanship posters for their campaign for good sportsmanship. Members of the club assisted teachers by taking up tickets at the home basketball games. Before Christmas, place cards for the hospital trays were made by club members.

L. to R., FIRST ROW: Jane Davis, Linda Howard, Brenda Fogleman, Carolyn Davis, Sandy Jessee, Pat Harrison. SECOND ROW: Ann Fuller, Sarah Hendricks, Joyce Jones, Dianne Rasnake. THIRD ROW: Mrs. Buckles - Sponsor, Brenda Lester, Regina Smith, Opal Brown, Jackie Anderson, Ava Gillispie. FOURTH ROW: Linda Griffith, Linda Jessee, Joyce Ramey, Brenda Griffith, Sharon Jones. # Hi-Y

The Hi-Y is made up of boys interested in Christian citizenship. The platform of the club is clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship and clean living. This year the club distributed the crippled children's canasters and helped with school day at the fair. We also sent two members to Model General Assembly and with the other Y clubs of the school served as host for the Western District Conference.

The Future Farmers of America, or "F.F.A." as it is commonly known, is a national organization of boys studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools. Courses in vocational agriculture under the National Vocational Education Act were first established in the United States in 1917. Lebanon was one of the first schools in the state to include agriculture as part of the school curriculum.

Our chapter is proud of the success and accomplishments of those members that have graduated and gone into farming, education, and agriculture business and look forward to equal success for the present and future members.

The French Club, composed of the 58 students who took French I and French II, held their meeting once a month during the regular French class period. The programs consisted of reports about France and plays given in French.

The first activity of the year was French Initiation Day for French I students. The purpose of this was to welcome the French I students into the club and help them learn the very "français" way of doing things.

On February 8, 1964, the French Club sponsored the annual Mardi Gras. The affair was a formal dance with "Evening in Paris" as the theme. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of King Rex, Butch Noe, and his queen, Carolyn Keene.

L. to R., FIRST ROW: Mrs. Bundy, Sharon Brown, Butch Noe, Estella Monk, Phillip Blizzard, Susan Archer. SECOND ROW: Ava Gillespie, Brenda Acuff, Karen Holliday, Sandy Jessee, Dana Buskirk, Carolyn Davis, Diane Rasnake, Linda Jessee. FIFTH ROW: Richard Jessee, Dennis Jones, Tommy Griffith, Butch Hale, Jeanette Griffith, Linda Jones, Carolyn Hanson, Portia Stanley, Estella Monk.

The typists are finding that they have to work hardest of all staff members.

Pioneer Staff

These students are identifying the pictures for our yearbook.

Pictures and copy were used as the primary medium whereby the Pioneer staff endeavored to captivate an image of each fleeting activity and phase of the school program.

It is evident that the high lighting feature of this volume of the Pioneer is the full-bleed double-page spread used for dividers.

The rewarding happenings of the year 1964 offered ample opportunity for an interesting display of the events to be cherished in each individual's memory of a wonderful year spent at Lebanon High.

Balancing the pages is an important job for any member of the Pioneer staff.

L. to R., FIRST ROW: Margaret Dean, Francis Tignor, Norma Gilbert, Judy Cross, Anna Jean Keene, Joyce Belcher, Johnnie Daniels, Linda Jones, Starr Counts, Carol Brooks, Bettye Honaker, Barbara Williams, Carolyn Hanson, Marian Chandler, Joyce Jackson, Janice Chafin. ## Choir

Choir was a credit course, which was taught during the fourth period. The choir had the largest enrollment in history this year, consisting of sixty-seven members at the beginning of the year. Our goals were learning to read notes and to appreciate music more fully. The choir participated in the Christmas Pageant. Nine members of the choir went to All-State Chorus which was held at John S. Battle High School. The choir gave its annual spring concert in May.

Mr. Jones and these nine members attended All-State Choir.

The 1964 Band

The high-stepping Pioneer Band had a very successful school year. As in previous years, the band participated in the Lord's Acre Parade, Chilhowie Apple Blossom Festival, Bristol Band Festival, Abingdon Burley Tobacco Festival, District Seven Concert Festival and the Vinton Dogwood Festival. The band also gave two spring concerts. The annual Band and Choir Banquet was held in May.

Trail Blazer Staff

The staff is preparing to print the Trail Blazer.

In collaboration with the speech class, this year the journalism class presented a one-act play, AFTER THE HONEYMOON by Tom Erhard, to aid in financing the Trail Blazer.

Our paper attempts to carry out the policy of: (1) publishing unbiased factual news concerning school clubs, organizations, and activities; (2) encouraging higher cultural and intellectual standards within the school; (3) working toward better relationships between students and faculty members.

Mrs. Smith and three members of the Trail Blazer staff look at negatives for the paper.

Library

Miss Howard, the librarian, always wears a radiant smile while unpacking new books.

Susan Archer and Sharon Brown file cards in the shelf list trays.

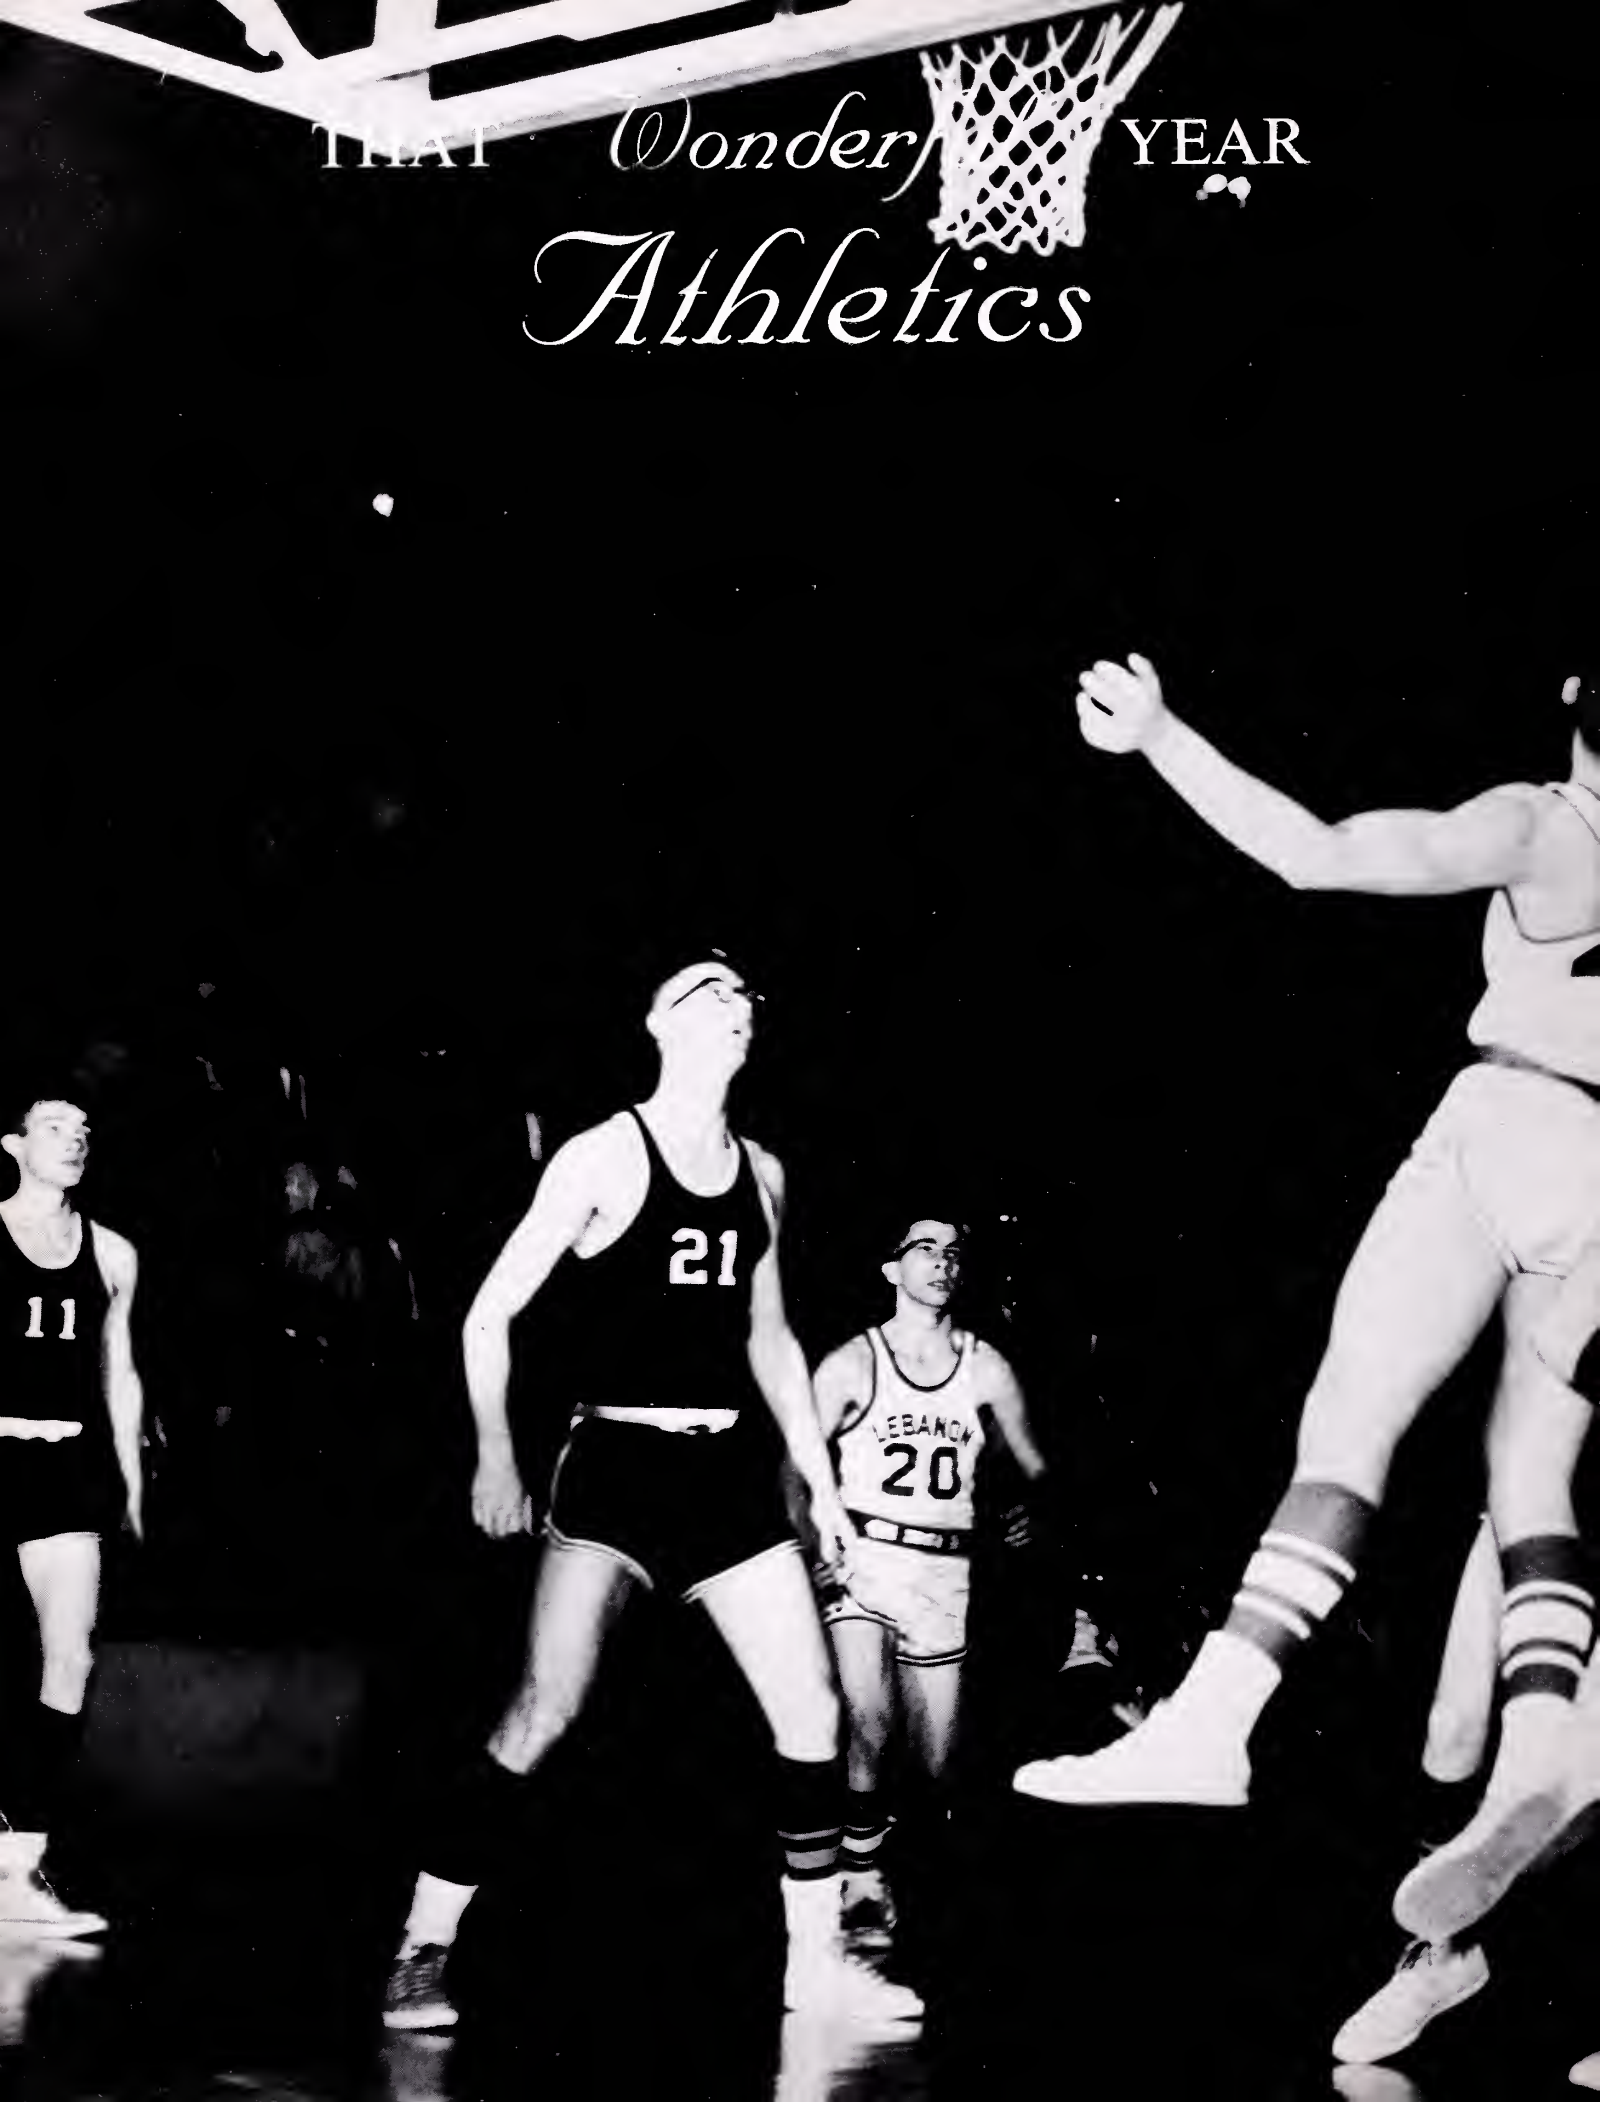

Phyllis Buckles and Pat Counts type in the accession book while Norma Buckles assists.

Peggy Hooker, Claudine Shugart, Anna Jean King, Nancy Chapman, and Loruga Howard card books while Joyce Belcher, Peggy Jessee, and Diana Smith are ready to return them to the shelf.

State Basketball

Co-Captains: Frank Hanson and L. F. Valley admire ball with which our team acquired the title "CHAMPS"!

The Pioneer Basketball Teams of 1963-64 compiled a fine record of 22-5. Included is a County Championship, a District Championship, and for the first time in the history of the school a State Championship.

The season began in spectacular form with an impressive 110-59 win over Honaker. Then came Rich Valley 59-36. Two straight losses to John Battle and Chilhowie followed. Then the Pioneers proceeded to win ten in a row, including get even games with Battle 41-37, and Chilhowie 62-55. Cleveland broke the streak with a 58-57 upset. This was followed by a loss to Garden 55-54. After defeating Rich Valley for the second time by a score of 73-52 the Pioneers proceeded to wrap up the County Tournament. They defeated Castlewood 78-62, and then Cleveland 57-53. L. F. Valley and Chad Robinson were named to the All-County team.

After a make-up game was lost to Pocahontas 60-52 the District Tournament began. Lebanon disposed of a tough Chilhowie five in the opening round 53-42. Then came White-wood in the semi-finals and the final count was 71-61. The final round was against Pocahontas and the Pioneers were District VII "Champs" by a 65-62 margin.

The basketball coaches for this year's team were Mr. Bryant, Mr. Farley, and Mr. Moore.

L. F. Valley lays up another two points for the "state champions" with assistance from Chad Robinson.

The scene then shifted to the V. P. I. Coliseum in Blacksburg where Lebanon downed an undefeated Clifton Forge 59-58. The following night saw the Pioneers beat another undefeated team. This time it was Altavista, and the score was 51-45.

The next opponent in the semi-finals of the state tournament was South Hampton, and the "Big Red" topped them 53-43. The final round was against Pennington Gap and the Pioneers became State Champs with a 56-52 victory. Congratulations to L. F. Valley in being named to the All-State team, and to Frank Hanson and Chad Robinson in making honorable mention.

Physical Education

This year Physical Education students have been able to test their abilities by means of the Virginia Physical Fitness Tests. The eight test items measure the 6 basic components of physical fitness—balance, strength, flexibility, speed, agility, and endurance.

Following are names of the girls who scored the best on test listed.

Linda Grimes - 9th Grade - Standing Broad Jump 6'8"; 60 yd. dash 8.2 sec.; Shuttle Run 11 sec.

Phyllis White - 8th Grade - 600 yd. walk and run 2.9 sec.

Regina Smith - 9th Grade - Sit ups 31

Hester Barton - 10th Grade - Tip ups - 1 min. 21 sec.

Nancy Morrison - 8th Grade - Bobbing - 26"

Only one student out of 160 tested received an excellent rating on all tests performed. Linda Grimes received a score of 5, the highest score given.

Athletic Banquet

Lynda Jones, Jeanette Griffith, Ann Burns, Diana Smith, Regina Smith, and Ann Boyd received gifts because they were present at Blacksburg for the state basketball competition.

The Athletic Banquet was a very exciting occasion because many trophies were presented to the boys who excelled in sports.

The State Championship basketball team received desk sets from the Lebanon High School Athletic Association for capturing the state championship basketball title.

Junior-Senior Prom

The students enjoyed the refreshments that were served by the Junior class.

Dancing to the "Pastel's" from Bristol was very dreamy and romantic.

Bob Gilmer seems a bit dazed as Mr. Musick places the crown on his head.

Did the "pickaninnies" engage in "shoplifting" from the tables?

King Butch Noe and Queen Carolyn Keene.

French students and their guests enjoyed an "Evening in Paris" on February 8 at the annual Mardi Gras. King Butch Noe and Queen Carolyn Keene reigned over the festivities. The attendants and "Mystic Krewe of Comus" entered the city through the Eiffel Tower. In addition to dancing, a short program was presented as entertainment for the royal court and guests, which included a song by Linda Howard and a monologue by Vivian Jackson.

Dianne Rasnake and Sandra Jessee accompany Linda Howard while she sings "Que Sera, Sera."

Lebanon High

An effort was made to send interested representatives to all important meetings and conferences, since through these come the training for the leaders of the clubs in our school. We are striving to use our maximum abilities in carrying on the extra-curricular as well as the scholastic activities within the school.

Maryon Candler, Sondra Mullins and Sharon Brown attended the F. T. A. Convention at Richmond.

Model General Assembly delegates were Dell Perkins, Clara Jessee, Connie Jones, Richard Jessee and Gim Helvey.

Representatives

We view the work of our club program with pride because we have been successful in most of our undertakings. As proof of our success we note the many plaques and certificates on display in our school.

Jim Helvey, Mardell Perkins, Sondra Mullins, Ava Gillespie, Diane Rasnake, Carolyn Keene, and Susan Archer attended Blue Ridge Assembly.

Delegates to Girls' and Boys' State were Roger Taylor, Betty Harrison, Billy Ratliff, Judy Hawks, and Mike Puckett.

Carolyn Howard, Bernie Meyers, Linda Watkins, and Ann Parks were chosen as delegates for S.I.P.A. Convention.

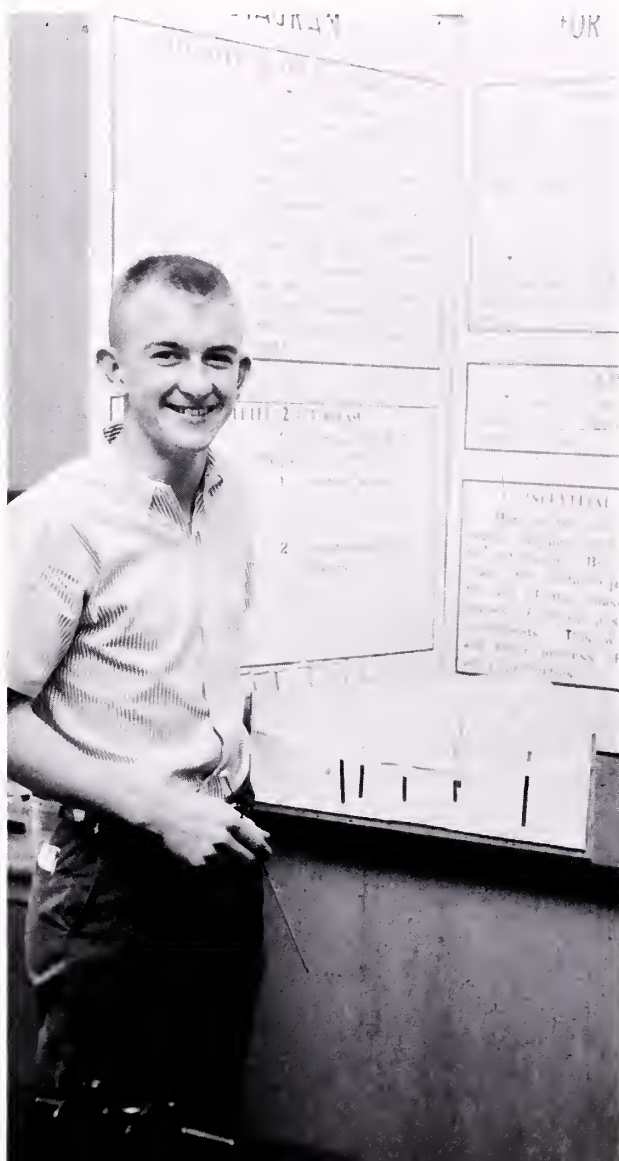

L. F. Valley and Chad Robinson made the All-State Basketball team.

Remembering Those Who Win

Ronnie Parks placed first in Physics division in school competition and second at District Science Fair at Wise, Virginia.

Dell Perkins won the D. A. R. Good Citizenship Award.

Judy Hawks won the Betty Crocker Home-maker Award.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernice Price, our custodians are ready for another day's work.

Graduation

The 1964 graduates are nervously awaiting the signal to begin the march down the aisle at the baccalaureate sermon.

James Gilmer and Phillip Puckett lead the seniors out of the auditorium after the inspiring baccalaureate service.

Remembering

Mr. Stafford Compton, Bible instructor in Bluefield College, gave the address.

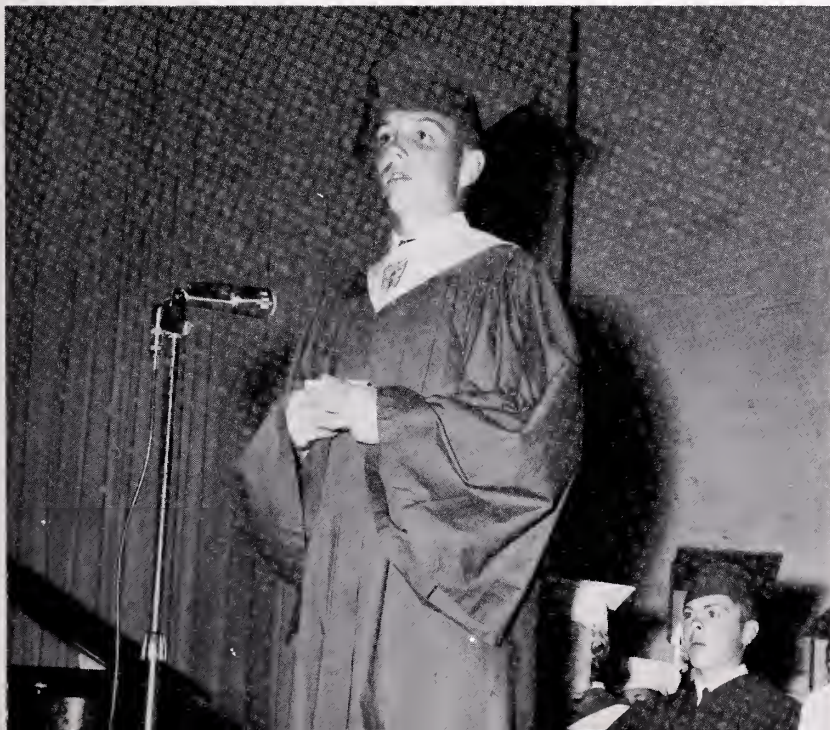

Parents, teachers, and friends stand as the graduates march solemnly into the auditorium for the baccalaureate service.

Baccalaureate and Commencement

Tommy Fuller spoke on "Education Lights the Way."

Seniors of Lebanon High School bid their Alma Mater adieu realizing that the moment of parting from that which was faithful, true, and good sounds a note of sadness which they have never experienced before. With unfaltering steps they march ahead to meet the challenge in the complex world awaiting them. Unable to visualize their future, yet willing to cope with each problem confronting them they press steadily on to reach the next goal in the complex modern society.

Ernestine Easterly, who had perfect attendance for eight years, received her diploma from Mr. Whited.

Ronnie Parks spoke on "What Will Tomorrow Be?"

Graduation

Betty Harrison talked on "The Key of Freedom."

Billy Ratliff gave his speech "Why Do People Work?"

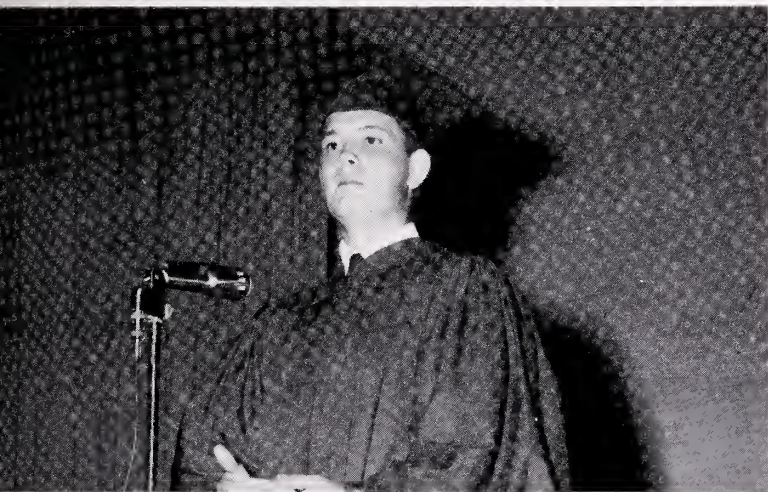

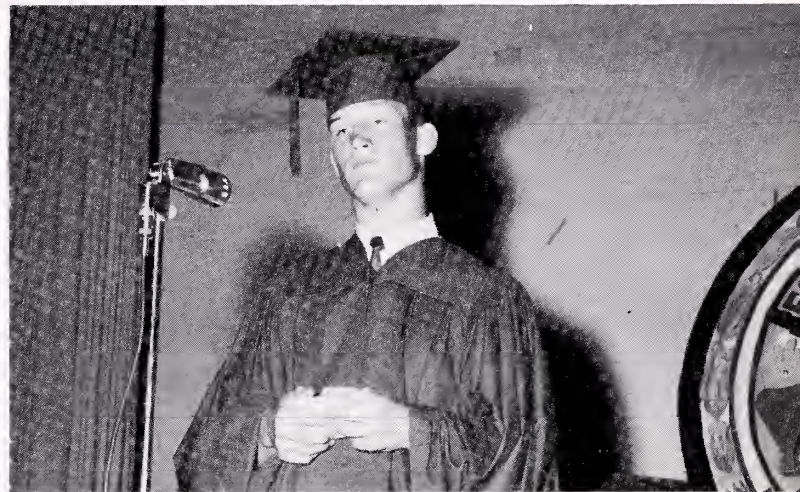

Charles Holmes gave the invocation at commencement.

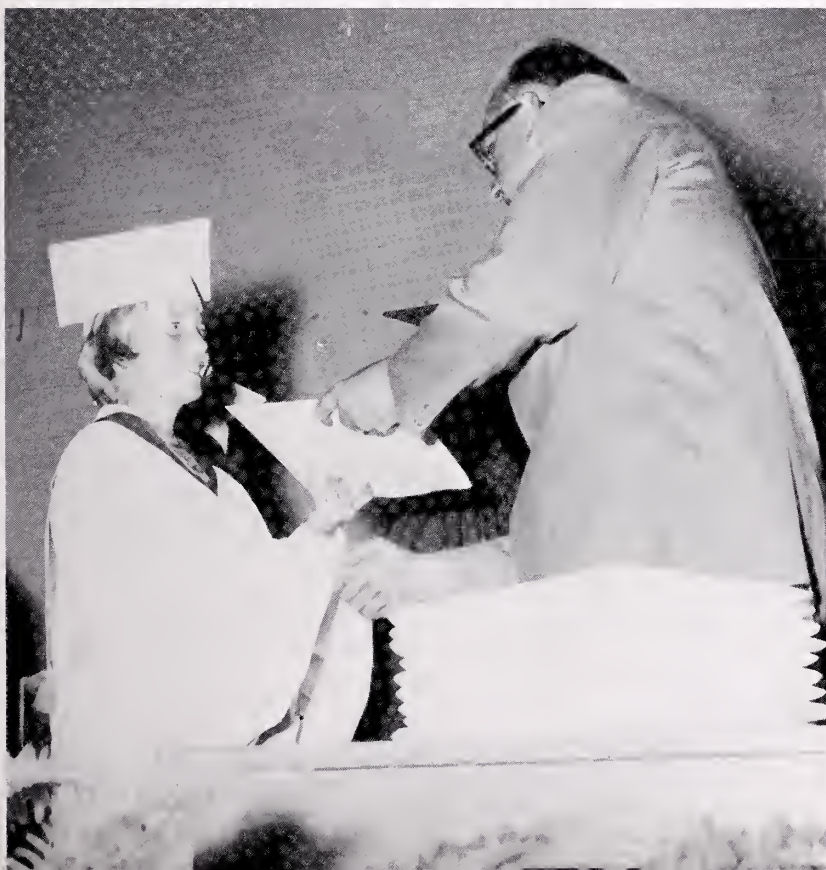

Dorothy Settle spoke on "Peace With Freedom."

Harold Cook talked on "The Need for Excellence."

Michael Puckett inducted the Class of 1965.

Mr. Whited, principal, for the first time presented diplomas to the 64 graduates on Wednesday, May 27. The honor of being valedictorian went to Tommy Fuller, and Mardell Perkins was salutatorian.

Mardell Perkins received her diploma from Mr. Whited.
